JULIE Simmons trained as a Graphic Artist on leaving school. This was followed working as a tracer and detail draftsman for an engineering company. Julie also produced detailed view drawings for car manuals.

Whilst having her family she completed two Diplomas in pottery at Penrith TAFE and for the next 16yrs had a successful career as a studio potter. Julie returned to painting in 2004 working primarily in watercolour, but also using oils, acrylics and mixed media.

Julie spends much of her time travelling in her trusty campervan 'Clarice' sketching and painting around the country. The sketchbooks and studies are used to produce works in her studio.

Julie is the recipient of numerous awards around the country and a number of councils and private businesses have acquired her work. She is a Fellow of the Royal Art Society. Her paintings can be viewed at Soho Galleries, KAB Galleries, Purple Noon Gallery, Freemans Reach, Manyung Galleries, and Humble House Gallery.

AUSTRALIAN ARTIST

Julie is a multidisciplinary artist who loves to paint en plein air to capture the mood of the subject.

She paints in watercolours, pastels, oils and mixed media.

Julie Simmons has developed her own unique style, pushing the boundaries to produce works full of light and depth of tone.
